

tucson.com

Never a dull moment: Our guide to 100 days of summer fun

Arizona Daily Star

May 23, 2024 Updated May 30, 2024

July 11

Large-scale hanging sculptures by Los Angeles-based artist Fay Ray — her first solo museum exhibition — are on display at MOCA Tucson, 265 S. Church Ave. In Portals, the artist fills the museum space with distinctive metal sculptures and an immersive black and white collage created with images taken in the Sonoran Desert. MOCA is open Thursday through Sunday. Info: moca-tucson.org

Fay Ray, Portals, MOCA Tucson, installation view

